We are delighted to bring to the market this well-located former hotel "Lough Gara Hotel" situated at Main Street, Ballaghaderreen, Co. Roscommon.

The property, which is now derelict, offers excellent potential for development (Subject to Planning)

A brief lay out of the hotel is as follows:

Ground Floor - Reception area, bar, function room with its own bar, dining room, kitchen and ladies and gents' toilets.

First Floor - 12 bedrooms, a store room, 4 bathrooms, 1 shower room and a WC.

Subject to planning, this is a superb opportunity for an investor to come along and repurpose this site and create a small complex of apartments or indeed stay with the commercial route as the property could host a fine range of commercial uses or bring it back to it's former glory as a hotel located in the centre of the town.

Behind the former hotel, there is a large area which houses a derelict abattoir/factory. Again for the right buyer, this offers excellent potential for further development or to use as car parking space if one were to utilise the existing derelict hotel for accommodation purposes. Please note this property is unlicensed.

This property offers Huge Potential.
